

Our Biggest Display of the New Winter Dress Goods and Suitings

THE care in selecting—the broad range of materials provided for your choosing, and the splendid values obtainable, has resulted in what we set out to accomplish—the securing of one of the biggest, early season Dress Goods and Silk business we have ever had. It is impossible for us to describe all the new materials, designs and colors. You must see the goods to know of their beauty and desirability. If it is impossible for you to visit our store send for samples. All mail orders carefully filled.

We strongly advise making your selection now when the variety is the greatest and while the prices, in some cases, are as much as 25 per cent. less than signs indicate for the near future.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mrs. L. Richards, who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. E. L. Donamore of Pleasant street for a week, returned to her home in Brookfield to-day.

William Hurry of Long street, chief of Clan Gordon, is nursing a painful contusion on the right side of his face, the result of an accident which occurred in a North Barre blacksmith shop yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hurry was using a heavy hammer, when a flying fragment of hot steel struck him in the face. At the office of Dr. J. A. Wark, a short time afterward, it was found that the steel had penetrated to the outer covering of an artery. Two stitches were taken.

The auction sale conducted by Dan A. Perry at the Putnam farm in Williams-town yesterday was well attended by cattle buyers from a large surrounding territory, the registered cattle being a big attraction for fancy stockholders. There were 54 head of cattle knocked down to the highest bidder, the grades selling at medium prices ranging from $38 up, while the registered cattle sold at prices as high as $175, 15 of the cows averaging $220. Mr. Putnam sells his stock because he intends to stop dairying, but will stock his farm with several breeds of beef cattle, and make the raising of beef his chief line in farming.

MONTPELIER

Mrs. Frank Abbiatti of Barre Street Died Yesterday Afternoon.

The death of Mrs. Frank Abbiatti occurred at her home on upper Barre street following a brief illness with stomach trouble. She was born in Italy but had resided in this country for a long time. Workmen have the rear of the F. W. Woolworth store boarded in in order to tear out the brick wall so as to join the main part of the store with the annex which is being built on the rear of the block. The workmen expect to have the wall out of the way within a few days, although it will be several weeks before the Woolworth store will be connected with the annex.

Norberto Cano, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustino Cano of 167 North Seminary street, died this morning after a brief illness. Death was due to an abscess of the brain. The child's mother will be remembered in this city and in Morrisville and vicinity as Miss Frances Bates. The body will be taken to-morrow to Morrisville, where funeral services will be held. Interment will be in the village cemetery.

The registration of students at Goddard seminary reached 202 to-day and expected acquisitions to the student roll will bring the total up to 270, a high-water mark in the history of the institution. Enrollment in the evening school is large and some very good work is being done. Prospective students are urged to enroll before the end of the week, before the students now registered are farther advanced.
